

Would you drive your car without changing oil regularly or having scheduled maintenance performed?

Why then would you operate your computer systems without regular maintenance?

Not performing regular and proactive maintenance of your computer systems is a major cause of problems such as viruses, spyware, machines running slow and overall downtime. The net result of a lack of preventive maintenance is productivity losses, possible data loss as well as paying bills for hourly services to get problems fixed. TechInfusion Total Care is a low cost, fixed fee service that proactively monitors and maintains your network and systems with the goal of minimizing IT problems - leading to lower downtime, higher end user productivity and lower technical support costs.
